APEX STAINLESS STEEL SHOOTBOLT

INCORPORATING YALE SENSICHECK™

Elevate your window security with the Apex Stainless Steel Shootbolt – an intelligent solution for modern windows.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Introducing the Apex Stainless Steel Shootbolt, a state-of-art window locking solution with the option to seamlessly integrate with Yale SensiCheck™.

This innovative shootbolt is manufactured to deliver superior security for PVC-U profiles, providing next-level protection for windows.

Manufactured from high-quality stainless steel, the laminated shootbolt not only enhances security but also prolongs the product's service life.

The intelligent design features a one-piece zinc centre keep, combined corner mushroom and shootbolt keep, significantly improving product performance and manufacturing time.

The Shootbolt also comes with a corner drive option which gives you the ability to use the Shootbolt as a wraparound mechanism for high or heavy duty top hung sashes. This gives you additional locking points on the side of the sashes to improve the compression of the window.
